In Tornado's
Wake; Over 100
Hurt In Midwest

Detroit, June 18 (AP)—A freak June tornado struck viciously Monday night into southern Michigan and adjacent Ontario, Canada, and left behind today a death toll of at least 17 and more than 100 injured.

Searching parties hunted through a one-hundred foot path of devastation in Canada for possible additional victims. The identified dead totaled 13, but hospitals in the Windsor area reported at least "seven or eight" other victims critically injured and near death.

The search through the debris began at the first streak of dawn less than 12 hours after the twister roared across the Detroit river and into a sparsely settled rural area near Windsor.

River Rouge, Mich., a Detroit suburb and home of the huge Ford Motor Company Rouge Plant, sustained the first shock of the tornado shortly after 6 p. m., but tiny Sandwich, Ont. bore the full fury of the blast.

Vast Damage
Property damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Hundreds of persons were homeless as the wind toppled their homes like so many straws.

Business establishments were wrecked, autos tossed about like playthings and bodies of the victims were buffeted as the tornado reached its zenith.

The tornado, climaxing two days of violent rainstorms, struck without warning.

Scores of residents of populous River Rouge were at their supper tables when it hit.

The Fisher low cost housing project was first to feel the fury of the tornado which leveled 10 of the 546 (Please Turn to Page 6)

C. P. Keefer, vice president of the Adams County Schoolmen's club, presided at this morning's sessions at which some of the members of the panel held that school teachers who are assigned extra class assignments which take up a great deal of their time, such as supervision of school newspapers, should be relieved of some of their regular classwork.

Members of the panel included R. Floyd Cromwell, supervisor of educational and vocational guidance for Maryland; Horace G. Geisel, principal of John Harris high school, Harrisburg; Walter Hess, of the National Association of Secondary School Principals, Washington, D. C.; Guile W. FARM CLASSES
FOR VETERANS
START MONDAY

Arrangements were completed at a meeting Monday evening in the court house for the opening of agricultural training for veterans next week in Adams county at training centers in the vocational agricultural departments of the Gettysburg, Biglerville and New Oxford high schools.

Eighteen ex - servicemen — who either are operating farms of their own or working as farmer apprentices — already are enrolled and ready to begin classes next week. Richard C. Lighter, county vocational agriculture adviser in this county, said today there are 20 additional applicants for agricultural training and that he expects that within another month another class of about the same size will be underway.

Attending Monday's meeting were Mr. Lighter; B. F. Giddings, agriculture training officer for the Veterans Administration, and Joseph Scott, recently elected teacher for the first veterans class in agriculture in this county.

Three Training Centers

A limit of 20 has been placed on the number of veterans to be placed in Scott's class. As additional applications are approved, the men will be assigned in groups of five to vocational agriculture teachers in county high schools until 15 are enrolled when a new class will be established and another full-time teacher will be secured.

The first classroom sessions will be held next week on this schedule: Monday evening at Biglerville high school from 7 to 11 p. m.; Tuesday at Gettysburg from 7 to 11 p. m., and Wednesday evening at New Oxford from 8 to 12 midnight.

In addition to the classroom work each week at the three training centers, the students who are running their own farms will get two hours of supervision each week on their farms. Apprentices will get one hour a week of supervision.

Depending upon their length of military service and any disability involved, the veterans will be given the "ag" training for varying periods up to a maximum of four years. The county board of school directors are the sponsors for the project in this county.

List of Veterans

Sgt. Walter J. Stubbs, army recruiting officer with headquarters here, was a speaker at the regular meeting of the Albert J. Lentz Post No. 202, American Legion, at the clubrooms on Baltimore street Monday night.

Fifty members were present at the meeting, and 22 applications for membership were approved, bringing the total membership of the post to 1,138.

June 27 was set tentatively as the date for a crab feed, to be arranged by the house committee, providing crabs are available.

The house committee announced that plans for the new Legion home were presented by the architect, Alfred Hamme, York, to the committee at a meeting June 11. When a drawing of the building and interior sketches have been received from the architect a special meeting of the post will be called by Commander W. A. Geiselman for their approval. The meeting is expected within a week or ten days.

Broke Meter Post
When He 'Felt Mean'

Wilbur Harner, Littlestown R. D., arrested Saturday night by borough police on a charge of driving his automobile into a curb here and damaging it, pleaded guilty at a hearing before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore Monday night, and paid a fine of $10 and costs. Police charged that Harner repeatedly ran his car bumper against the post of a parking meter on center square until the action broke part of the curb away, and knocked down the meter.

Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster said that the occurrence took place on May 31 and upon investigation it was found that Harner had committed the act. He was said to have told police that he "jumped" the car up on the curb to hit the meter. He said, according to police, that the reason he performed the act was because he had been drinking and "felt mean."

Among the costs paid by Harner were the costs of replacing the meter and repairing the curbing.

Army Hints Fantastic
Weapon As Atom Defense

Washington, June 18 (AP) — The army lifted the edge of a blueprint briefly today to disclose a fantastic weapon that may develop into a defense against atomic rockets or armored space ships laden with a-bombs.

It is a jet of molten metal which has an initial velocity of almost five miles a second.

Although still in the research and planning stages, the possibility of the horrendous new weapon has experts in the Army Ordnance Department enthusiastic. They concede that adapting it to a robot anti-atomic sky defense is going to require a bit of doing, however.

The first hint of the molten jet was dropped in a dully worded War Department announcement (with Einstein-ish overtones) which reported that postwar research of the ordnance arm is gradually outmoding many standard weapons used in the World War of a year ago.

Maj. Gen. Everett S. Hughes, chief of Ordnance, is of the opinion the high explosive bullets and projectiles that fighter pilots pumped into enemy aircraft probably will be replaced in a few years by the new high speed metallic jet, traveling at an initial velocity of 25,000 feet a second.

This molten metallic jet — comparable in a way to what jumps out of a tooth paste tube when squeezed, a patient ordnance spokesman explained — would travel at such a high speed that it couldn't be deflected. That is, it would go right through the armor plate of a plane flying an atomic bomb. Or it could punch an atomic rocket right on the nose.

If the jet travels at 25,000 feet a second—and that speed is known to be possible — its spurting flash of molten metal could catch up with a V-2, if it travels at only 5,000 feet a second. A bullet lags at 3,000

WASHINGTON
PILGRIMAGE

Preliminary plans for a pilgrimage by Boy Scouts and scouters of the Black Walnut (Adams county) district to Washington, D. C., on Wednesday, June 26, were outlined Monday evening at the second of a series of patrol leaders training courses held at the Troop 78 headquarters here.

William R. McClell, district chairman of camping and activities, announced that within the next few days every scout and scouter in the district will receive cards announcing the proposal and outlining the places to be visited on the tour. Among the sites to be visited are: FBI headquarters, the White House, National airport, Arlington, Smithsonian Institute, the Archives building and the Library of Congress. A $3 fee for the trip will cover the transportation, he announced. All reservations must be in by June 22, McClell added so that arrangements can be completed to procure a bus for the trip.

The scouts plan to leave about 6 o'clock in the morning and return that evening. District Commissioner Jack Cenna will be in charge.

23 Attend Class

Twenty-three scouts and leaders attended Monday night's patrol leaders class at which patrols were organized for the duration of the course and to function after the training course ends at a patrol leaders' 24-hour camp to be held during the latter part of June.

John W. Caskey, chairman of organization and extension for the district, was elected patrol leader for the "Alley Cats" patrol with John Trout of Troop 76 as assistant patrol leader. Troop 76 is the newly formed troop sponsored cooperatively by (Please Turn to Page 5)

Vandals Steal "Old Oaken Bucket" From College Gym

"The Old Oaken Bucket," football trophy held by Gettysburg college since 1938 when the Bullets won 14 to 0 over Dickinson college's eleven, was stolen sometime Saturday night or Sunday morning, the office of C. E. Bilheimer, college director of athletics, revealed today.

The "bucket," a wooden trophy bound with silver hoops, was awarded each year to the victor in the football game between Gettysburg and Dickinson. Last victory for the Red Devils was in 1937. Since then Gettysburg won each year until the games were cancelled because of the war. Recently, according to members of the college athletic director's staff, there has been agitation in feet a second. Sound drags along at 1,120 feet a second.

Col. Leslie E. Simon, director of the Ordnance department's ballistic research laboratory at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland, said rapid strides are expected in the immediate future toward an understanding of the possibilities of "high speed metallic jets produced by shaped charges."

"It can be logically anticipated," he said, "that with further understanding of shaped charge phenomena, and with larger models it may be possible to overcome what (Please Turn to Page 2)

DANCE BANDS
SELECTED FOR
V-J DAY EVENT

Two well-known dance bands including 25 musicians and featuring three vocalists have been secured to provide four hours of continuous music for the V-J Day ball in the college gymnasium on the evening of August 14, one of the features of the Welcome Home celebration the county is planning for its World War II veterans.

Richard S. Codori, chairman of the sub-committee arranging for the dance which will be free to veterans and their guests, announced today he has contracted for the services of Bob Lyter and his 16-piece orchestra from Lancaster and for Al Shirey's nine-piece orchestra from York.

Part of Evening's Entertainment

Lyter's musicians have just returned from an appearance at Atlantic City. Their orchestra features two vocalists. The vocalist with Shirey's orchestra is a featured singer of the Spring Garden band of York.

There will be iced soft drinks at the gymnasium that evening and Cloyd Shetter has been placed in charge of the refreshments to be distributed without charge at the dance.

The dance in the gymnasium will follow the free supper for the veterans and their families and will continue throughout the evening. Another feature of the evening's entertainment will be a one-hour display of fireworks. Tentative arrangements have been made for a concert by massed bands during the evening also.

BOROUGH STRIKE
ENDS AT NOON

Accepting an ultimatum from borough officials, borough highway department workmen returned to their duties shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon, ending a 1½-day strike. Foreman Harry Turner said the first job will be removal of street decorations that were to have come down Monday.

Ray M. Hoffman, president of town council, gave the following explanation of the dispute:

"Some time ago the borough employees asked for an increase in pay. The matter was referred to the finance and highway committees with instructions to report at the next meeting of council.

"The men, however, felt that they should have had an increase in pay, effective with their last pay check. On Monday they failed to report for work. I explained to them that I felt confident council would do the right thing and that in all probability some adjustment would be made in their wages. I also said that I felt council would make their action retroactive to the date of the employees' request for an increase in pay.

"I told the men that if they failed to report for work at one o'clock this afternoon I would recommend to town council that we engage an entire new crew of workers."

IS GOING ABROAD
ON CHURCH TASK

Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, of the Seminary faculty, will leave June 28, aboard an American Air Lines plane at Philadelphia, on the first part of a five month trip that will take him on a tour through Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Finland for the board of publications of the United Lutheran church.

Doctor Rasmussen plans to fly from Philadelphia to London and from there to Copenhagen, Denmark, where he will begin his tour of the Scandinavian countries as a representative of the Lutheran church in American in contact with the Lutherans of those four countries.

Seek War-Years Literature

During his trip he is scheduled to make a survey of the theological literature of the four countries produced during the war years when there was no contact between the Scandinavian and American Lutheran groups. From his survey he is to recommend what books are to be published in English, arrange for publication rights in the U. S. and will assist in the translation of some of the works. He is also scheduled to seek out a staff of correspondents in these countries to write for Lutheran publications in this country.

He expects to return here in November.

Doctor Rasmussen is a member of the Board of Publications of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The local man returned Saturday from a two-week trip to New York to arrange for visas for the trip, and then to Detroit and Chicago to visit relatives. From there he went to Valparaiso, Indiana, to attend the second annual conference on Social Ethics at the Valparaiso university. The conference was made up of representatives from all branches of the Lutheran church in the U. S.

MOST PEOPLE MUST RELY ON CREDIT BUYING

Washington, June 18 (AP)—The great mass of American consumers will have to rely on current earnings and credit to finance the heavy postwar buying they plan, a federal survey indicated today.

The study, made by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics for the Federal Reserve Board, presented this picture:

Two out of every five families have, on the average, only $40 cash saved in such quickly cashable assets as savings bonds, other securities, and bank deposits.

Concentrated Wealth
This group, although accounting for 40 per cent of the nation's families, came out of the war years with only one per cent of all such assets in the country.

The next 30 per cent of the families occupying the middle ground on the national scale, accounted for an additional 11 1/2 per cent of the ready assets.

In contrast, the top 30 per cent of the nation's families emerged holding 87 1/2 per cent of the quick assets, with each family credited with at least $1,100 and the topmost 10 per cent of this family segment represented 60 per cent of all such national assets, averaging $10,500 per family.

See Credit Buying
A Federal Reserve official said the survey findings pointed to the following conclusions:

1. The concentration of savings in the hands of a small number of families makes them a considerably less important factor in financing consumer purchases than originally anticipated.

2. The mass of families, lacking substantial savings, must depend on current earnings to pay for food, clothing and other ordinary expenses of living.

For the more expensive items, such as houses, automobiles, refrigerators and the like, a major proportion of families therefore will have to resort to borrowing or installment-buying and other forms of credit.

Already, the Federal Reserve Board said in another report, an increasingly heavier proportion of buying is being done with borrowed money or credit, and the tendency will probably be accentuated as the higher-cost items become more available.

FLOOD CONTROL IS UP IN HOUSE

Washington, June 18 (AP)—Flood control is due to get House attention today. The bill proposes a $900,000,000 expenditure. Passage in two days is probable.

Meanwhile a billion dollar, House-approved navigation bill awaits Senate action. The Senate Commerce committee approved it yesterday. Both measures cover hydroelectric and irrigation works besides flood control and navigation projects. Neither provides money. This must be appropriated in subsequent legislation.

There is a $150,000,000 authorization for the $500,000,000 Arkansas River program in the navigation bill. It involves power and navigation.

The controversial $116,000,000 Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway also is covered. But the committee rejected the $22,300,000 big Sandy Canal, Ky., and W. Va.

The flood bill authorizes $300,000,000 for the previously approved Missouri Valley development. The two bills are the first of their kind since the war. The ultimate cost might easily exceed two billion, including local expenditures.

Atom Defense

now appears to be formidable difficulties in the attack of heavily armored guided missiles and high speed aircraft.

The jet-firing mechanism is envisioned as an airplane weapon. First it would hurl out a rocket to be guided by radar or drawn by electronics to its skyborne enemy target. As it closed in, it would let go with a stream of molten metal.

A surety of the peace charge against Harrison Runkle, Gettysburg, preferred June 14 by Grace B. Shaner, Center square, has been withdrawn, and the case settled. Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore announced today.

Homeruns played an important role in the opening of the second round of games Monday evening in the Community Softball League.

Joe Hess, manager of the Varsity Barbers, batted his team to a 5-2 victory over the much improved American Legion team on the college field with three long homeruns in as many trips to the plate.

In the first innings he hit a homerun to center field with a runner aboard. His homerun in the third to left with another runner on base was perhaps the longest hit in the league this season. He topped off his slugging with a third homerun to right in the sixth.

The Elks and the Moose staged a hard battle in the opener on the college field with the former team finally pushing over a run to win 5-4 after two extra innings.

Aires Rally
Kittzmiller's homerun with Dracha aboard gave the Elks a comfortable 4-2 lead in the third but the Moose fought back and tallied two runs in the seventh to send the game into extra innings. Herring's double to score Dracha decided the contest.

The West End Aires came from behind to cop an 8-4 decision from the Ice and Storage in the opener at high school. Tim Sanders put the icemen out in front 4-2 in the top half of the third with a homerun with one on and the Aires rallied to tie the count in their half of the inning and then pushed over four runs in the fourth to win handily.

In the nightcap on the high school field the State Highway rolled up a 16-3 victory over the State Guard.

GUILD TO TAKE FIGHT TO STATE

Boston, June 18 (AP)—The American Baseball Guild soon will petition the Pennsylvania State Labor Relations Board for an election to determine a bargaining agent for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Robert Murphy, labor relations director of the guild, announced this plan of action at the same time that he said the guild had requested withdrawal of its unfair labor practice charges against the Pirate management.

In explanation of his withdrawal of the charges, Murphy said he understood that "x x x" through the board (NLRB) may feel it has jurisdiction over major league clubs, it does not have adequate appropriations to handle all cases coming before it.

Believes He Can Win
Murphy, who maintained that players on 12 clubs belong to the guild and that the organization has a majority on a half dozen teams, said he would "not appeal from the decision of the NLRB that the board does not desire at this time, to hold formal hearings on cases involving professional baseball clubs."

The guild director, who supported the Pirate players recently when they voted to strike and then changed their minds, was confident an election would be ordered soon and that it would turn out favorably for the guild.

He contended also that "scores of players have told me that the willingness of the Pittsburgh manage-

James C. Isaminger, Sports Writer, Dies

Fawn Grove, Pa., June 18 (AP)—James C. Isaminger, 65, a baseball writer for 45 years until his retirement six years ago from the staff of the Philadelphia Inquirer, died yesterday at his home in nearby Maryland.

Born in Hamilton, O., Isaminger began his newspaper career in 1895 for the Cincinnati, O., Times-Star. He came to Philadelphia in 1905 and joined the North American as baseball writer and sports editor. He came to the Inquirer in 1925 when the North American quit publishing. Isaminger retired when he was stricken by a paralytic stroke while covering the Philadelphia Athletics on a road trip at Cleveland.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, June 18 (AP)— Billy Conn is planning to go through several swift rounds of shadow boxing in his dressing room before meeting Joe Louis tomorrow night. The idea is that Billy, a slow starter, will then be ready to go when the big fight starts. . . . But there's another angle to the slow starting that has been evident in training camp reports. Every time Billy laid off for a couple of days, he looked bad in the next session. . . . And Conn, of course, won't risk any real boxing today. . . . That's one of several reasons why this writer is picking Louis to win in six rounds or less. . . . Another is the 450-odd miles of road work Joe has done. . . . Joe isn't a fancy stepper in the ring but he keeps moving in where he can hit the other guy and we can't figure how his legs will tire if the fight goes one round or fifteen.

WEIGHT OF AGE
Although a lot has been said about the ages of the champion and the challenger, Bob Fitzsimmons and Jack Johnson both were 37 years old when they were dethroned and Jess Willard was 36, which still gives the 32-year-old Joe a few years to go. . . . And five former champions were older than Conn when they won the title. . . . Best bout for comparison is the one in which Gene Tunney (27) dethroned Jack Dempsey (31).

"Titan Hanover, the trotting champ, will make his first four-year-old start at Roosevelt Raceway Friday night in a tuneup for the $25,000 invitation race July 3. . . . Although last week's all star college basketball game drew only about 400 cash customers (Bill Mokray counted 49 in the bleachers) the coaches plan to continue it and hope eventually to make enough dough to repay the expense money the colleges put out this year. . . . KRAMER BOOSTS SOX TROUBLES
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Throwing the ball over the grandstand is hereby suggested as a healthy exercise for American league pitchers. Ever since Jack Kramer of St. Louis climaxed a bumping bout with Umpire Hal Weaver by heaving the pill out of Fenway Park, he has been nothing short of terrific.

After shutting out Washington in an extra-inning game and downing the Yankees, Kramer took the hill last night to prolong the Boston Red Sox "slump" with a 7-1 triumph, allowing only five hits.

It's much too early to start worrying about the Red Sox who still lead by 7½ games, but Skipper Joe must be spending some anxious evenings—particularly over the pitching department.

Only one of the last eight Boston starters has gone the route while the club has been losing five of its last six starts.

With the rest of the league unscheduled, the Sox lost a half game to the other contenders.

Cards Pick Up Game
It was a great day for St. Louis with the Cardinals picking up a full game on the idle Dodgers by belting the Boston Braves twice, 9-6 and 1-0.

Ben Chapman's Phillies are only .006 behind the seventh-place New York Giants. A four-run cluster in the second inning doomed Pittsburgh, 7-3, although Dick Mauney had to come to the relief of Charley Schanz, the Phil starter. Skeeter Newsome, who hit only six home runs in 10 previous big league seasons, swatted one in the sixth with a man on to assure the decision.

All other clubs were not scheduled to deal with the players individually, rather than through the guild, was an obvious attempt to defeat organization."

Inter State League
(By The Associated Press)
The idle Wilmington Blue Rocks were a game and a half ahead in the interstate league pennant race today after second-place Trenton was trounced, 11 to 2, last night by Harrisburg.

Hagerstown remained entrenched in third place by edging Lancaster 4-3. York rose up from its cellar position to push Sunbury from fourth to fifth place by defeating the Yankees, 9 to 1.

Sunbury's loss enabled Harrisburg to move into the bottom rung of the first division.

Allentown and Wilmington were not scheduled.

Tonight's games:
Hagerstown at Allentown; Wilmington at Sunbury; Harrisburg at Trenton; York at Lancaster.

ROY STEELE DIES
Somers Point, N. J., June 18 (AP)—H. Roy Steele, Sr., 59, onetime star forward for basketball teams in the Philadelphia and New York state leagues died yesterday.

Steele started his career in 1908 with the Homestead (Pa.) team and played his last game 15 years later with the Camden (N. J.) team of the Philadelphia league. He also played for Southside of Pittsburgh and Gloversville in the New York state league.

BLUE JAYS WIN FROM PIRATES; DOOR IS BURNED

Philadelphia, June 18 (AP)—The guys who pay the bills for the Philadelphia Phillies have burned the National league "cellar door"—and the obliging Blue Jays promptly won another game to push them within .006 percentage points of seventh place.

Phil's president Bob Carpenter, in a mock ceremony yesterday, put the match to the "barrier" that has kept the Phillies in the cellar for the greater part of 20 years.

"This burns me up," Carpenter cracked, "and I hope it keeps this thing burned up forever as far as the Phillies are concerned."

General Manager Herb Pennock helped his boss fan the flames and commented tersely:

"The only thing wrong with this is that we didn't burn it after the first game Sunday. Then maybe they wouldn't have closed it down on us again. But we'll be out of it one of these days; this week, for sure."

Sweep Series 3 to 1
And the Blue Jays showed last night—at the expense of the hapless Pittsburgh Pirates—that they meant to make Pennock's prediction come true.

The Phils defeated the Pirates, 7 to 3, to sweep the current series three games to one and run their win percentage to 13 out of the last 18 contests.

Last Sunday, the Blue Jays peeked up out of the cellar squeezing past the New York Giants. But a defeat in the second half of a doubleheader dumped them into the dumps again.

"It felt good," Carpenter said, "when the boys were in seventh place even only for an hour or so." He feels the Phils' day is coming—soon.

Boasts of Players
"We have a lot of young players scattered through the farm clubs who will be ready in the next year or two," Carpenter declared. "We have kids in their teens—infielders, outfielders, pitchers—who really have it."

"They've really amazed me, the ones I've seen. We have a boy playing with the Wilmington Blue Rocks (of the Interstate league). His name is Eddie Sanicki; he's an outfielder. He's hit 10 home runs so far."

"The left-field fence in Wilmington isn't as far away as it is at Shibe park. It's around 300 feet. This Sanicki, though, hits them as if the fence was only a couple of yards away. x x x maybe he won't make good, though I say he will, but out of all of them we're going to have a ball club that will go into the first division."

FIGHTERS END TRAINING FOR TITLE MEETING

By GAYLE TALBOT

New York, June 18 (AP)—The long weeks of sweaty, monotonous training behind them, heavyweight champion Joe Louis and his challenger Billy Conn of Pittsburgh, took final light workouts today, just sufficient to keep their red corpses stirring.

Both concluded their boxing yesterday, the big negro stepping four rounds against his sparmates and Conn dancing through a final two. If either confidence means anything, each of them should score a smashing victory tomorrow night before the first crowd of 100 ticket-buyers in the history of prize fighting.

The two former soldiers, who made a sensational scrap in their other meeting five summers ago, will see each other once before they square off under the lights at Yankee stadium—when they appear at Madison Square Garden at 11:30 a. m. (E.S.T.) tomorrow for the official weigh-in.

Louis Is Heavier
Prospects are that Conn, the 28-year-old former light heavyweight king, will balance the bar at around 182 pounds. Louis is expected to weigh around 206 or 208.

It might be significant that Louis, before he began training for the 22nd defense of his crown, chose 208 as the weight to which he expected to scale himself down. One hundred and forty-four rounds of boxing and 466 miles of road work after he began his grind, the big champion is precisely where he wanted to be.

Conn and his entourage broke their New Jersey camp last night.

WILLIAMS CUTS VERNON'S LEAD
New York, June 18 (AP)—Mickey Vernon of Washington and Dixie Walker of Brooklyn continued to set the major league batting pace according to averages based on games through Sunday but two gentlemen from Boston—Ted Williams of the Red Sox and Johnny Hopp of the Braves—were beginning to make themselves heard.

Vernon's margin over runnerup Williams was sliced to 12 points during the week as the Washington first sacker slumped 19 points to 372. Joe Cronin's slugging left hender moved up 15 degrees to .360 on a torrid pace of 12 hits in his last 26 at bats.

Hopp Is Second
Walker gained four points to .370 with Hopp zooming up 13 points to a second place .359 in the National. Stan Musial of St. Louis at .340 and Johnny Mize of New York at .330 continued the left-handed hitting nonopoly before Brooke Del Ennis of the Phillies broke it up with a .329, good for fifth place.

Dominic DiMaggio of Boston ranked third in the American back of Vernon and Williams with his .341 average and there was a 15-point gap between him and Johnny Berardino of St. Louis who was fourth at .326. Charley Keller, the only Yankee regular over the .300 circle was fifth at .325.

Ynkee regular over the .300 circle, was fifth at .325.

THE LAW

I have been greatly impressed—as I presume many another has—with many of the signs in my city, that suggest certain things, ending with the statement: "It is the law." I believe that many are restrained to obey such signs, for inbred in all good citizens is their respect for law. It is disrespect for law that is at the bottom of most of our troubles.

Universally there is contempt for the driver of a car who disregards the traffic lights, for each driver instinctively feels that they are his own protection. Their disregard often results in tragedy to more than the one who violates them.

That book by Emery Reeves, in which he points out the way for a just and lasting peace, through the agency of international law, that is, a world government, established upon a rockbound basis of law, seems to be the only one by which a United Nations Organization can long last and be effective.

Laws, when justly constructed, are made in favor of the majority, and for the good of the many, not the few. No national aspirations should ever be allowed to tread upon such a law. We are One World, and will never be anything else. It is constructive to feed an enemy, but destructive to hate him. On such a premise you can gain his respect for the law which you set before him to follow.

There are many unjust laws enacted, but the power of public opinion can wipe them from the statute books! And this can be achieved through orderly methods, set down by law. Where the law is respected, there you will find good government. And the people, as a whole, are its final judges.

The law is each individual's protection. Violators of laws are the ones soonest to howl and complain if another violator does so in a manner to interfere with his own interests! Those who show contempt for our form of government are always quick to appeal to its laws if their personal protection is endangered! Strange, isn't it?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Scent of Hay"

ANSWERING "HOW?"

A bright-eyed youngster questioned so:

"Daddy, how did that building grow?"

And the father said:
"Workmen made it, stone by stone.

Nothing comes by itself alone,
But from hand and head."

"Daddy, how did a church get here?"

"People worked for it year by year,"
Said sire to son.

"And, the workmen came with strength and skill,
Piled brick upon brick for months, until

The spire was done.

"My boy, there's never a floor or wall,
Never a mansion or cottage small,

But workmen made it.
Remember through all of your years ahead

There's never a brick in the walks you tread
But workmen laid it."

MUST YIELD SOVEREIGNTY IN ATOM PLAN

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

An outstanding feature of America's proposal for international control of the development and use of atomic energy—and second only to that control in importance—is the fact that inauguration of this security system means the surrender by all nations of such degree of sovereignty as is necessary to make the plan effective.

Every nook and cranny of each nation, big and little, would be open at all times for the inspection of the international atomic development authority. Not only would secrecy regarding atomic developments be impossible, but a lot of other privacy would go out the window.

No Precedent in History

History offers no precedent for such voluntary surrender of sovereign rights to a central authority. And despite the fact that, as American delegate Bernard Baruch said in presenting the proposal, "We Must Elect World Peace or World Destruction," there may be nations which will hesitate to give any international body carte blanche to sleuth about when and where it sees fit.

Mr. Baruch's answer to this is that the people of the world hate war and "are not afraid of an internationalism that protects; they are unwilling to be fobbed off by mouthings and narrow sovereignty which is today's phrase for yesterday's isolation." But supposing we encounter in some nation a refusal to subscribe to this plan for global security?

The answer is, I'm afraid, that we might be faced with the uncomfortable possibility that this nation was staying out for ulterior purposes—that it was cherishing ideas which didn't fit in with universal peace. Certainly the American proposal will open the closet door on any such skeleton.

The Atomic Test

Within the comparatively few hours since Mr. Baruch placed these sensational proposals before the United Nations Atomic Energy commission there has been more than a little speculation whether their adoption and successful application might inspire a venture into world government in due course. Well, it strikes me that this is legitimate speculation, though it is in the same class as conjecture about what atomic energy ultimately will be able to do for us.

We surely can go this far: if the atomic proposals are adopted and are made to work, then the whole machinery of the United Nations Organization, with its numerous ramifications, can be made to work.

The American proposals, wholly altruistic, should go far toward allaying the suspicions which have been aroused by the fact that Uncle Sam possesses the only atomic bombs there are as well as the secret for their manufacture (or does he?)

RAIDERS FIRE RAILWAY YARDS

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS

Jerusalem, June 18 (AP)—Killings in a spreading wave of terrorism gripping the Holy Land mounted to 11 today following an hour-long attack on Haifa's busy railway yards last night by a band of armed raiders.

Two members of the raiding party which set off 15 explosions in the Palestine railway's facilities in the port city before escaping over heavily mined roads, were reported slain last night by the yard's defenders.

Previously the government announced that six Jews were slain Sunday night in attacks during which all of Palestine's frontier bridges were wrecked. A British officer and two British soldiers also died, the officer while dismantling a mine under a bridge and the two soldiers in a clash with Arabs.

The British army, meanwhile, continued to question the 62 male residents of the village of Beth Haayara, on the Dead Sea, in connection with the wrecking of the bridges. Twelve other men and two women, one of them with a bullet in the back, were taken to a nearby hospital.

Olean Defeats Hamilton 15 To 0

Buffalo, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—Olean, only nine days ago next-to-the-last in pony league standings, was tied with Hornell for fourth place today.

Olean whitewashed Hamilton 15-0 last night to score its latest win in a week-long string of victories marred only by twin defeats administered Sunday by Bradford.

In other games last night, Jamestown defeated Hornell 9-5, and Lockport edged Wellsville 6-4. The Bradford at Batavia contest was postponed because of rain.

Abbottstown

Abbottstown—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landis, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landis, Jr., and daughter, and Mrs. Edna Hafer are visiting friends in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Norman Miller fell and suffered severe sprains and bruises of the hand and foot while picking cherries at the home of Mr. Miller's parents in Hanover.

The Willing Workers class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school is spending the week at a cottage at Dick's Dam. Several parents of the girls visited them at camp Sunday.

Fred Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Griffin, has received his discharge from the navy and arrived at the home of his parents.

Mrs. P. H. Cleaver is reported ill at her home.

wound in her chest, also were under arrest.

Police dogs led troops to the village, which they entered only after forcibly moving the male residents at bayonet point. The entire population of the village had attempted to bar the troops by linking arms and taking a stand.

Workshops in the Haifa railway yards were damaged extensively by fire and explosion in last night's attack, which was carried out while British troops deployed through the town to halt the eruptions of violence.

Haganah, an illegal Jewish organization, distributed leaflets in Tel Aviv asserting that it was responsible for the Sunday night outbursts. The Palestine Post, the nation's leading Zionist newspaper, deplored the violence, which it said served no purpose and righted no wrong.

2 STATES VOTE TODAY; MAINE PRIMARY QUIET

(By The Associated Press)

Voters of Michigan and Massachusetts turned out today to stamp approval on nominees for governor, house and senate after a quiet Monday primary in Maine.

Despite a veterans bonus issue the Maine voting was the second lightest in history.

Republicans renominated Gov. Horace A. Hildreth for a second two-year term over Roy L. Fernald of Winterport, an attorney making his fourth unsuccessful bid for the nomination. Hildreth's margin was 4 to 1.

Vet Wins Nomination

F. Davis Clark of Milo, a 30-year-old army veteran, was the Democratic choice over State Senator Leland B. Currier of Lewiston by more than 2,500 votes. Fernald, Clark and Currier all proposed paying a cash bonus to discharged members of the armed forces. Hildreth promised to let the legislature dispose of the question at a special session next month.

U. S. Senator Owen Brewster was unopposed for renomination on the Republican ticket. In the general election he will face Peter M. MacDonald, former state Democratic chairman, who also had no rivals.

Michigan's four way contest for the Republican gubernatorial nomination and a few congressional district races there and in Massachusetts provided the noteworthy competition in today's voting.

Republican aspirants to the Michigan state house post were Lt. Gov. Vernon J. Brown, Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, Jr., of Detroit, Raymond J. Kelly, former national commander of the American Legion, and Kim Sigler, former special prosecutor for a grand jury which investigated charges of irregularities in state spending.

On the Democratic side former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner, of Detroit, was the leading challenger either the Republican incumbent, Arthur H. Vandenberg, or James H. Lee, former Detroit corporation counsel, who will provide his Democratic opposition in November.

Ernest Carter, scoutmaster of the newly organized Troop 80, established recently for the colored youths of the community, was named as patrol leader for the "Hornet" patrol with Donald Elliott of Troop 76 as assistant patrol leader. Edward Kerrigan, scoutmaster of Troop 78 was named patrol leader for the "Fox" patrol with Thomas Trout of Troop 76 as assistant.

Jobs Assigned
After organization and naming of the patrols, the scouts designated jobs for the members of the patrols. Donald Elliott was in charge of the opening ceremony. District Committeeman Caskey outlined patrol hike planning and demonstrated differences between the scout and army type packs.

Snead Clift, field executive for the district, explained methods of securing advancements through the use of games and Commissioner Cessna demonstrated the use of maps in hikes and camp planning.

Next Monday the scouts will discuss patrol features, camping and other activities. Commissioner Cessna announced. Motion pictures of a local troop will be shown.

MARKETS

Gettysburg Grain-Eggs

Market prices at the Gettysburg warehouse and the Egg Co-Op Association corrected daily as follows:

Wheat $2.08
Corn $1.89
Rye 1.28
Large White Eggs 42
Large Brown Eggs 44
Medium Eggs 38
Pullet Eggs 32
Duck Eggs 30

Baltimore Fruit-Poultry
Market steady. Receipts moderate. Wholesale selling prices (including commission) in Baltimore:

ROASTERS, FRYERS AND BROILERS—Colored, as to size, 34—35.7c. FOWL—Colored, 30.4c.; Leghorns, 28c.; large fowls, 24—25c., few higher.

Baltimore Livestock
CATTLE—Receipts at the opening of this week made up chiefly of stockers and feeders. Receipts of all slaughter classes hardly large enough to warrant an accurate test of the market. Outside buyers again took the bulk of the slaughter cattle receipts. Trading in general active especially so far as cows and bulls concerned.

In the steer division, the meager supply offered sold fully steady with the close of last week. The top price of the day was $19.00 paid for a load of choice fed yearlings that averaged around 890 lbs. There was a load of top-grade and choice fed Western steers, 24—25c., that sold at $17.75. Heifers steady with last week's close. Receipts in this division common and medium arrivals $12.50—13.75.

COWS—Steady with last week's runaway market. Smooth, young medium grade cows $12—13.50, with outside buyers taking fat beef cows freely, $14—14.50. Common grade cows, cows carrying fat and flesh but aged and "hippy," $9.50—11.50. Canners and cutters, $7.50—9, with most sales starting at $8. Local and big packer buyers only able to buy a limited number of cows due to compliance limits.

BULLS—Steady with last week's runaway market. Good beef bulls, $15.50—16. Good weights sausage bulls, $14—14.50 with high-yielding individuals to $15. Light and medium weight sausage bulls, $12—13.50. Country outlet for stockers and feeders broad, consequently trading active and prices unchanged from the close of last week. A few loads and lots of top-grade stockers and feeder steers, covering a wide range of weights, $17.25—17.50. The bulk of the supply graded medium and good, $15.25—17, with a few lots of common arrivals $14.

CALVES—Vealers active and steady with the close of last week. Demand broad. Mixed lots of good and choice 120-220-lb. vealers, $17, mainly $18. Common and medium arrivals largely $10.50—13.50 with a few lots $16. Culls around $8 with extreme lightweight to $5. Weighty slaughter calf receipts too meager to warrant a fair test of the market.

HOGS—Swine trading active and steady with last week's close at ceilings. All interests competed for the available supply far below the demand. Good and choice barrows and gilts $15.40 and good sows $14.65.

SHEEP—The bulk of the spring lamb receipts active and steady with the close of last week. Some interests bidding unevenly $1—1.10 lower but despite this fact, only a few lots of spring lambs remained unsold at the noon hour. Mixed lots of good and choice 70-100 lb. spring lambs, $13.50—19.50, the latter price the top. Mixed lots of medium and good arrivals $16—17.50. Slaughter ewes active and steady. Choice lightweight wooled slaughter ewes $8.50 down with comparable shorn ewes $7.50 down.

JIGGER MORAN

by JOHN ROEBURT

CHAPTER 5

The brownstone house on East Eighty-fourth Street was corrupt with age. Calced streaks spurted across the two-story-and-basement brick face. Iron-grille barred the windows. The whole of the building was a scowling No Trespassing warning.

Jigger walked up the chipped-stone stoop and pushed a bell. A strip of bronze atop the bell read Dr. Otto Herz. Jigger kept his finger on the button.

A woman's face peered sharply through an exposed slit in the heavily quilted door. The skin was amber yellow through the thick plate glass; the eyes and nose lunged at him. Jigger's thumb described an eenie-meenie-minie-moe between himself and the inside of the house. The eyes and nose withdrew and a bolt cracked.

Jigger stepped over the threshold. "I'd like to see Mrs. Otto Herz."

"What do you want to see her for?"

After a hem Jigger said, "It's official and confidential."

"I am Mrs. Otto Herz."

Small infiltrating rays of daylight speckled the parlor floor reception room. Mrs. Herz pointed a flat palm and sat erectly on a straight-backed chair in a perfunctory attitude. Jigger dropped into an easy chair that was unyielding beneath him. A great emptiness bulked between them, and Jigger felt himself dead cold to the situation. He said inane, "May I offer my condolences to you in your hour of bereavement?"

"Thank you."

Jigger was obsessed by a sense of brevity; ceremony was strangling speech. Another minute of it would spell doom to his visit, whisk him out on the sidewalk.

Improvisation tumbled from his lips. It was uncharted, risky, indecent, but Jigger went on and didn't stop. "Your husband's death was of a fantastic piece of business out of this world. It's one thing to kill a guy out of pique, hatred or greed. But to spread his face like oleomargarine on bread requires a special motive or the very best there is in insanity. What did an obscure doctor like your late husband have to do to get him done in like that?"

"Dr. Herz had no enemies."

"Then how do you explain the way he was killed?"

Imperturbability was frozen on her face. "I cannot explain it."

"Haven't you an idea, a clue, anything that may be a lead?"

"Thank you."

"Thank you."

"Thank you."

"No. Nothing."

"What about his personal habits? Did he belong to any clubs—fraternize in the profession? What did he do for recreation?"

"Dr. Herz lived a solitary life in this house since we bought it some five years ago. He took long walks for exercise."

"How about money? And debts or other money problems?"

"There's a small mortgage on this house. That's the only indebtedness we did not need much. We lived simply."

Jigger had the uncomfortable feeling that she was eluding him. If he could only get her out of that blankety-blank firm-bodied pose, get her actually to sit in her chair, drop a stitch at the seams.

Jigger threw a question and hitched forward to catch her expression in the ghostly refraction of the room.

"What about Dr. Herz's interest in gambling?"

The fabric of her voice held together. Her voice was distilled. "I have answered that question before. I knew nothing of it."

"Did you know anything of his affairs?"

"His affairs were few. There were just his patients."

"Where are his files?"

"The police took them away."

There was clearly no fusing into an intimate tone with the widow. The emptiness was still between them and they each persisted magnificently in the privacy of their own thoughts. Jigger got up.

"May I look around a bit?"

"If you like."

Jigger scanned the doctor's receiving room with minute interest. The room held the congestion of the provincial doctor's sanctum: an oversized roll-top desk with a sectional bookcase adjoining it; a huge mahogany-and-glass cabinet serving as a three-in-one for instruments, files and miscellaneous; and a perambulating examination table. The room looked jaundiced.

Three drawers were missing from the large mahogany-and-glass cabinet. The police had appropriated the drawers and their filed contents. Jigger scanned the rows of book titles briefly.

The widow was at his side. Jigger moved about, throwing vaulting looks hither and yon, prowling nervously; finally to the door with the widow moving noiselessly behind him. "I'll keep you abreast of developments, Mrs. Herz."

Traveled at 250 Mph.
At least 15 project residents were injured as the wind ripped buildings as if they were made of paper. Several small fires broke out, adding to the panic.

The tornado, which weather bureau officials said traveled more than 250 miles an hour, tore on through the business district of populous River Rouge, leaving a trail of destruction in its wake.

It then zoomed across the Detroit river, the suction of the tornado creating four huge waterspouts. Coast guardsmen said that as far as they knew, no boats had been damaged by the huge freaks of nature.

The terrifying funnel, estimated variously at from 20 to 100 feet at its base, sucked nearly everything in a 100-yard swath into its fatal grip.

Lasted 10 Minutes
Sandwich West, Sandwich East and the outskirts of Windsor were the Canadian communities which recoiled under the full blast of the tornado before it headed for Lake St. Clair, where the weather bureau said it dissipated.

The weatherman said the tornado ran its course in about 10 minutes.

All available police, firemen, ambulances, doctors, nurses and Red Cross workers were pressed into service to bring succor to the stricken areas.

Detroit hospitals were hard-pressed to handle seemingly endless streams of injured, many of whom were discharged after first aid treatment without their names being recorded.

State police and state troops were rushed to the River Rouge area after acting State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard telephoned to Governor Harry F. Kelly and informed him of the extent of the disaster.

Ontario Hit Hardest
But even as Michigan residents administered to their wounded and sought to find temporary shelter for the homeless, it became apparent that Ontario had taken the worst punishment.

Canadian police reported that the Sandwich area, largely a rural community, had been almost completely flattened.

Tragic stories were unfolded in quick succession as the bodies of 13 victims were recovered and scores of injured were rushed to Windsor hospitals.

Windsor hospitals hard hit by loss of electric power struggled to handle the great influx of emergency cases and Red Cross workers and other volunteers joined the fight. FBI agents sped across the river with portable lighting equipment to alleviate the situation.

Tragedy, Pathos, Heroism
Numerous tragic scenes were enacted as relatives came to the hospitals in search of friends and relatives missing since the blast struck. Most of the searchers were bewildered by the tornado, an almost unprecedented thing in the recent history of the Detroit-Windsor area.

Stories of pathos and heroism were intermingled. One man told of seeing a boy lifted off his bicycle and into the air as the tornado hit. The smashed bicycle was found; the body of the boy was not recovered.

A Canadian mother—Mrs. Joan Beaman, 19, Ojibway—Injured as the blast hit her home, gave Caesarian birth to a daughter but both died.

Homes Crushed
Several hundred workers of Chrysler corporation of Canada who had met at Windsor to take a strike vote, speedily assumed the roles of rescuers when they got word of the tragedy.

They formed first aid squads and hurried to the area to aid in the task of pulling timbers off the piles that once were homes to search for bodies.

Bus drivers turned their vehicles into emergency ambulances to rush victims to hospitals.

Telephone and electric light lines on both sides of the border were particular targets of the tornado and in the New York Central railroad Windsor freight yards freight cars were tossed about as if by some giant hand. Roofs were torn off freight buildings. Some boxcars were smashed into kindling.

Authorities expressed fear that some residents had been pinned in the ruins of their demolished homes and began the probe of the debris.

The Canadian Press estimated that "15 to 25 and probably more" had lost their lives.

Officials forecast that additional bodies would be recovered from the 15-mile area torn by the tornado.

TOURING YANKS GOOD NEIGHBORS IN SWITZERLAND

By HAL BOYLE

Zurich, Switzerland, (AP)—American soldiers, whose free and easy ways have brought them strong criticism in some European countries, have really earned their "good conduct" ribbons in Switzerland.

Here touring GI's are genuinely serving as good will ambassadors for the United States.

In the past 11 months almost 250,000 American troops have taken eight-day tours of scenic Switzerland at a special $35 rate which covers food, hotel rooms and travel expenses. Each soldier is also allowed to bring along $50 spending money.

When the project first was broached many Swiss were alarmed at the prospect of hundreds of thousands of foreign soldiers flooding their small country. They had a traditional liking for Americans, but they had heard disturbing reports of Yankee misbehavior with frauleins in Germany and mademoiselles in France.

Now after nearly a year of association with these tourists in uniform the Swiss people have voted them to be more gentlemanly than their run-of-the-mill peace time visitors. They have caused little property damage and their "wolfing" has been on a higher plane than during the war years.

"Out of one quarter of a million soldiers we have had only one half dozen cases of misbehavior," said Florian Neiderer, Swiss manager of the troop tours. "These were mostly watch and camera thefts. We have had no cases of crimes against women; we feel this is an exceptional conduct record."

One hotel manager who had accepted his first soldier guests with some reluctance told Neiderer later, "I wish our private clientele behaved as well as those American boys do."

Neiderer said the tours have done more "for mutual understanding between our countries than anything else possibly could."

"Your boys have learned that we Swiss are more than a nation of yodelers and cheesemakers."

Jimmy Bruger, veteran guide, who has also escorted almost 8,000 soldiers through Switzerland says the first thing troops ask is "where are the waches?" After that they buy wood carvings and music boxes.

Bruger says American soldiers generally prefer Swiss cities to Swiss scenery, because of the night life they provide. Jimmy sometimes can't understand why boys should rather play cards than look out of train windows at mountainsides. But he thinks that by all odds they are "prema" tourists.

"Before the war we saw only the ritzy class of American," he said. "The Swiss people like your soldiers because they are more typical of the United States."

Since the tours began, troops have spent some 70,000,000 francs in Switzerland—about $17,000,000.

Soldiers have written hundreds of letters back to express their gratitude for kindnesses shown them. Neiderer prizes most one from a soldier caught in a watch theft. After his release he wrote back to Switzerland and concluded with this compliment:

"And you have also the very best jail I was ever in."
